CHICAGO POLICE HOLD SUSPECTS IN EXPLOSION PLOT

Federal Agents Find Explosives In Raids Made Tuesday.

AGENTS CLAIM PARTIAL CONFESSION IS SECURED

Washington Starts In to Wipe Out Anarchists in America.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Chicago, June 4.—Half dozen men are in custody today as bomb suspects following a night of activity on the part of federal agents and city detectives. Several raids were made on hails on the west and south sides reputed to be places for radical gatherings.

In one of these raids it was said explosives were found, in addition to a mass of anarchistic pamphlets gathered in several places. Both government agents and police declined to give details regarding the suspects, saying these would be developed when the men were taken before officials of the department of justice for questioning.

From Daniel Colsein, arrested several days ago, it was said that a partial confession had been obtained indicating connection of Chicago radicals with others in the east in a bomb plot of wide ramifications. Colsein, said to be an Italian, speaks seven languages and is a bookkeeper.

According to the police he admits being an anarchist for four years, coming here from New York and during his leisure hours aiding in the propaganda work of the extremists with whom he is affiliated.

ESTABLISHES BUREAU TO RUN DOWN REDS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, June 4.—That efforts of anarchists to create a reign of terror through destruction of life and property, which had its climax in attempts on lives of prominent men in eight cities Monday night, not only failed in its purpose but has resulted in action by organized government that is expected to wipe out the anarchists themselves, was evident here today.

Following public announcement last night by Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer that the purposes of the department of justice are the same now as they were before, which was in turn followed, by a statement telling of the creation of a new bureau by the department with Wm. J. Flynn as its head, and which will have as its paramount duty, the crushing of the anti-government movement in this country, agents of the federal government throughout the country and detective forces in this and scores of other cities today renewed with vigor their efforts to run down those responsible for Monday nights bomb explosions.

Although the authorities are working behind a tightly drawn veil of secrecy for obvious reasons, it was stated that despite intimations yesterday that the identity of the man killed by his own bomb when he attempted to assassinate Attorney General Palmer had been established no tangible clues that might lead to apprehension of the plotters had been found. Chief Flynn, himself regarded as the foremost authority in the country on anarchists and their activities, already has caused persons known to be radicals of dangerous type to be put lunder surveiance by agents of the department of justice in practically every city the reds are known to frequent.

SAY CLEVELAND MAN MADE PITTSBURGH BOMB

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Pittsburgh, June 4.—Evidence that anarchists responsible for bomb explosions at the homes of Judge W. H. S Thompson, of the United States district court and W. W. Sibray, chief inspector of the bureau of immigration, Monday night, were operating under orders from Russian radicals headquarters at 133 East Fifteenth street was in the hands of the police here today.

According to an announcement this morning by superintendent R. J. Alderdice of the bureau of police, John Johnson, president of the local I. W. W. organization who was arrested yesterday after a fight with detectives in a down town office building, came to Pittsburgh from New York two weeks ago at the instance of "No. 1001." William Haywood, president of national I. W. W. according to Mr. Alderdice bears the pass number 1001.

Johnson who the police say, was the directing genius of the bomb plot in this city was held in jail today with a score of other alleged anarchists who were arrested yesterday and last night. Bail was refused in each case. In a partial confession made to the police late yesterday, Johnson is said to have named a Cleveland man as the maker of the bombs exploded here. This man, whose name the police withheld, also is said to have operated under orders of the radical headquarters in New York and is believed to have gone to Chicago after the explosions here. A search for him was being made in the city today.

Among the important suspects arrested last night was Mike Bielesta, also known as Zelesde, said by the police to be secretary of Russian Soviet organization in Pittsburgh and a delegate from the Petrograd council of workmens

PEACE DELEGATES HEAR GERMANS PREPARE FOR WAR

Word Comes That Coast Defenses Are Made Ready for Action.

ENVOYS SPECULATE ON POSSIBLE MODIFICATION

Joint Meeting of Allied Experts Is Called For Wednesday.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Paris, June 4.—A report has reached peace conference circles that Gustav Noske, the German minister of defense recently made a tour of the German coast defense and directed the personnel to be prepared for emergencies.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Paris, June 4.—The council four meet this forenoon. Experts on territorial questions and reparations met with the council. It is understood that the clauses of the Austrian peace treaty dealing with reparations now have been completed.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Paris, Tuesday, June 3.—The atmosphere in peace conference circles was full of speculation today as to possible modifications in several clauses of the treaty with Germany, but nothing tangible is expected to develop until the outcome of the joint meetings of allied experts becomes known. It is expected that some of these meetings will be held tomorrow. At the meeting of the council of four this afternoon, President Wilson made another effort to bring about an agreement as to the principle of the reply to the German counter-proposals, but the meeting ended without an agreement. It is understood that Premier Clemenceau maintains a firm attitude against any revision of the

There is reason to believe, according to advices from Paris, that the council of four will reach a decision by Thursday as to be reply that will be made to the German counter-proposals to the terms of peace. Allied experts are at work on the reply and meetings are being held in Paris today for the purpose of drafting memoranda to be submitted to the council of four.

It is probable that this work is well under way. Premier Clemenceau is understood to maintain firmly that there can be no important changes in the clauses of the treaty to which the Germans have entered their strongest objections. There are indications, however, of a strong under-current of sentiment to meet the German offer of a definite sum of one hundred billion marks as indemnity instead of an indeterminate sum that might be demanded under the terms as presented.

It also seems possible that the clause of the past relating to Silesia may be modified so that Germany will be able to receive supplies of grain, coal and other commodities in support of the transfer to Poland of sovereignty oaver that region.

That the Germans have not said their last word in objecting to phases of the treaty indicated by a memorandum which has been drafted at Versailles by German experts, who seek to refute allied charged as the guilt of Germany for the war. This memorandum will, it is said, be presented as a reply to the report made by the inter-allied commission on responsibility for the conflict.

The supreme economic council has appointed a committee to study a plan for the liquidation for the world's food control and to devise plans to meet the problems that will arise after the coming harvest. Dispatches from Paris state that after the signing of the peace treaty the United States cannot legally participate in the control of food supplies and Herbert C. Hoover, the chairman of the inter-allied food commission, is said to believe that business can be handled through regular channels.

BERLIN SAYS YANKS SUSPECT THE FRENCH

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Berlin, Tuesday, June 3.—Authorities of the American, British and Belgian armies of occupation, regard activities looking to the establishment of a Rheinish republic as a result of French intrigue and are themselves taking a strictly neutral attitude, according to the Elber Feld correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger.

It is believed that France is trying to gain by roundabout means what she was unable to force President Wilson to concede the annexation of the left bank of the Rhine, the correspondent declares. "The Americans and British, however, are freely permitting counter efforts on the part of Germany which are not permitted in districts occupied by the French. The upper Rhine district would not know of the existence of a new republic but for the centrist newspaper at Aix La Chapelle and Crefeld. There is no desire for a republic from Bingen northward, and the whole northern section of the Rhine province is completely loyal to Germany."

NEED AMERICA'S BUMPER WHEAT CROP IN EUROPE

With This Help, World Food Supply Is Ample Hoover Says.

TRADE IN WHEAT AND RYE IN GOVERNMENTS' HANDS

Little Dealing By Private Firms In Prospect Statement Says.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Paris, Tuesday, June 3.—There is a sufficient surplus of food indicated from the coming harvest to supply Europe and meet the needs of the world unless some unexpected catastrophe happens to the world's harvests, according to a statement issued today by Herbert C. Hoover, the head of the allied relief organization.

The bread budget balances, but the surplus of the American crop of wheat and rye this year will be needed. The statement says that most of the trading in wheat and rye will be in the hands of the governments. Other figures gained from the survey made by the organization and various governments indicate that the sugar crop in eastern Europe this year will be sixty-five per cent. of pre-war normal, the wheat and rye crop 77 per cent. and the vegetable harvest about normal. Since the war, it is estimated, Europe has lost 18,400,000 cattle, 39,000,000 hogs and 8,600,000 sheep.

After estimating the European consumption of wheat and rye at 2,250,000,000 bushels of which between 700,000,000 and 850,000,000 bushels will have to be imported, the statement continues:

"The available breadstuffs to Europe from the producing countries will probably lie between 770,000,000 and 850,000,000 bushels. It would appear therefore that the world's bread budget will balance next year but within narrow margins. In any event the present indications are that the American bumper wheat and rye crops will be needed. The principal importing European governments have all guaranteed their farmers prices at higher levels than the American guarantee and all are involved in bread subsidies. There will not be much likelihood of much private trade in wheat next year outside of government buying.

"The European production of sugar will be apparently about 65 per cent of the pre-war normal. The crop of potatoes, peas, beans, cabbage and other vegetables promise to be about pre-war normal.

"Our survey of the food animals shows that compared to pre-war conditions there is a net decrease of 18,400,000 cattle in the 98,300,000 in the herds before the war, a decrease of 29,500,000 swine from 69,300,00, and a decrease of about 8,60,000 sheep from the pre-war total of 109,800,000. The number of horses also has greatly diminished.

"While theoretically the cattle of Europe could be restored in two years and the swine in one year if no animals were killed, such a course would entail no local meat supplies, and the natural course will be a slow recovery over many years."

YANTZ HELD FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

Molders Union Alleges He is $1900 Short in Accouts as Secretary of Organization.

The case of Ohio vs. Ralph M. Yantz, charged with embezzlement of the sum of $1900, will be heard in Justice Horton's court, Monday, June 9, at 9 a. m.

It is charged that he used the said amount of money for his own use and that he has failed to live up to an agreement made to replace the amount.

The affidavit was sworn to by Frank Fetter an officer of the lodge, and Constable Charles Moore went to Cleveland, Sunday, and returned with Yantz on Monday.

NEWARK BATTERY BOYS SUGGESTED FOR STRIKE DUTY

Riots Follow Labor Trouble at Willys-Overland Plant, In Which Three Are Killed and Score Wounded—Plant Closed By Officials of Company.

Newark relatives and friends of the men of Batteries B and D, and of the headquarters company of the 324th heavy fiek artillery, are interested in the request made by Toledo today for troops, following labor troubles at the Willys-Overland plant there. According to information given out at the governor's office the only available troops were those at Camp Sherman, composed mainly of the 324th field artillery.

However, Secretary of War Baker stated today, according to information from Toledo, that federal troops would be sent only on the request of Governor Cox.

The Advocate called Camp Sherman and talked to the demobilization officer at that place. He was asked if the Newark men had been discharged and replied that Batteries B and D passed through his department Monday, and should be out of camp by this time. When asked if there was a possibility of their discharge being held up so they could be used in Toledo, he stated he knew nothing of that.

With the demobilization of the 37th division there are no state troops or militia available, and in case of serious trouble aid would have to be sought from the federal authorities. The men most probably would be taken from Camp Sherman, an dthe 324th is the largest unit, there.

GOVERNOR CONSIDERS MATTER

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, June 4.—No information was forthcoming today from the governor's office as to what action Governor Cox will take in connection with the request of Mayor Schreiber of Toledo, that troops be sent to Toledo to quell rioting in connection with labor troubles at the plant of the Willys-Overland Automobile company.

It was stated that the governor still had the case under advisement, but there was no indication as to what action he would take.

There are no state troops that can be sent to Toledo. The Ohio militia, absorbed by the regular army during the war, has not been re-established. Any troops ordered to Toledo probably would be sent by the war department from Camp Sherman.

GUARDS ARE ORDERED TO SHOOT TO KILL

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Toledo, June 4.—When police officials rechecked casualties resulting from riots last night in connection with the labor situation at the Willys-Overland automobile plant, the list of dead remained at two today, but the number of injured increased from 19 to 25.

Of the wounded, 11 were shot, and the remainder struck by rocks, bricks, clubs and other missiles.

Quiet prevailed in the vicinity of the idle plant where discharged soldiers, acting as emergency police, kept the crowds from congregating. There were occassional jeers from the ranks of the idle workers, but no violence.

Mayor Schreiber had received no word from Governor Cox in answer to his appeal for troops to handle the situation. The mayor said every available policeman and deputy had been sworn in and that order would be maintained "at any cost."

Colonel Howard, in command of the soldier police guarding the plant, said the men had been instructed to shoot to kill, if necessary, and that peaceful tactics in dealing with the situation would no longer be followed.

SEVENTEEN INJURED IN TOLEDO LABOR RIOTS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Toledo, O., June 4.—Operations at the Willys-Overland Auto company were at a standstill today as a result of the rioting last night in which two persons were shot to death and 17 injured. The plant opened a week ago Monday after two weeks idleness.

Clarence A Earl, vice president and general manager of the company, authorized the announcement that no attempt would be made to operate the plant which has been affected by labor disturbances involving 13,000 employes pending word from Governor Cox regarding the appeal from Mayor Schreiber for troops to handle the situation.

Coroner Walter Hartung has promised an investigation into the deaths in an effort to establish responsibility for the rioting.

The dead men it is said were not involved in the labor dispute and were never employed at the Overland plant. They were in the crowd which congregate about a fire station when discharged soldiers guarding the plant arrived in response to a riot call.

Feeling in the neighborhood where the deaths occurred is running high. This is a settlement of Poles. This nationality suffered the most seriously during the rioting, and police authorities are apprehensive of further outbreaks today, aimed at the former soldiers doing emergency police duty. emergency policemen are armed with automatic pistols and rifles. They still wear the uniform of the army and are operating under the direction of Colonel L. W. Howard, who receives his instructions from Mayor Schrieber.

WAR DEPARTMENT MUST GIVE ORDER TO TROOPS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, June 4.—Governor James M. Cox has not yet indicated whether he will ask the war department to send troops to Toledo to quell the rioting which last night caused the death of two men and injury of many others.

In Dayton early this morning he said he had been in touch with Mayor Cornell Schreiber of Toledo, by 'phone, but that he had nothing further to say. The goverror is expected to return to Columbus this morning.

At midnight last night Mayor Schreiber addressed a telegram to the governor asking that troops be sent at once, stating that although all available deputy sheriffs had been sworn in, he "was unable to cope with the situation."

In the absence of the governor, Chas. E. Morris, his private secretary, telephoned Mayor Schreiber informing him the state had no available troops and that it would be necessary to request the federal government for them.

The Toledo mayor told Mr. Morris to act at once, saying threats had caused him to leave his home and barricade himself in his office at the city hall, where he was surrounded by a heavy guard. Later reports from Toledo stated the mayor spent the night in a hotel, his whereabouts unknown, except to his closest advisors.

Announcement was made by C. A. Earl, vice president of the Willys-Overland company, striking workers of which are supposed to have been the agitators of the riots that no attempt would be made to operate the plant today.

It was said last night that it would be necessary to secure an order from the war department before troops could be sent to Toledo. More than 3000 soldiers at Camp Sherman are said to be available in case orders were issued.

Mayor Schreiber has received no word from Governor Cox concerning his plea for troops, and fearing that an attempt might be made to harm him spent the night in a hotel instead of his home. The house adjoining the mayor's was stoned and its windows smashed last night by sympathizers of the idle automobile workers, who apparently mistook the residence for the mayor's.

After this incident police were placed on guard around the houses.

The labor situation at the automobile plant which has been smouldering for four weeks, blazed into a pitched battle at the fates of the factory last night, as the day force was leaving. A crowd estimated at 5000 idle workers, attacked the loyal employes with a showers of bricks, stones, clubs and other missels.

The emergency police charged them, firing more than a 100 shots over the heads of the rioters. Eleven persons were injured in this clash—two probably fatally.

After this disturbance had been quilled one of the discharged soldier guards, with a girl companion, was seen in the Polish neighborhood near the automobile plant. He was carrying sidearms and wearing his uniform. A crowd gathered about him, hooted and threatened him, and he took refuge in a fire engine house. A summons for help was sent to the commanding officer of the emergency police force and two automobile trucks filled with men in uniform, responded. These men formed a half circle about the fire station and fired a volley over the heads of the crowd. When they failed to disperse, the order was given to shoot low, and this charge killed two men and wounded six others.

This trouble caused Mayor Schreiber to issue his appeal for troops and to ask the sheriff of Lucas county to lend his deputies to quell the rioting.

NEW FIRE TRUCK IS SATISFACTORY

Tests Made at Water Works Plant Proves Efficiency of New Apparatus.

A public test and demonstration of the new Seagrave triple pump, hose and chemical truck was made at the water works Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the presence of a large crowd, including the fire underwriters of the city, city officials, firemen and a large number of spectators.

The apparatus was managed by an expert from the factory and men from the Central department. Three lines of hose were connected to the deluge set and 920 gallons of water per minute passed through the nozzle or tip. With a 120-pound pump pressure and 105 nozzle pressure 803 gallons of water was thrown per minute. Then with a 90-pound pump pressure and 60-pound nozzle pressure 920 gallons were thrown.

A stream which conservately estimated was 180 feet high was thrown through a one and five-eighth nozzle tip, the wind splitting the stream and retarding its force else it would have gone higher, the pumper being known to force water to a height of over 200 feet.

Three streams were thrown at one time from the pumper, two through an inch and a fourth tip and one through an inch and an eighth tip and 901 gallons of water per minute was recorded.

The truck is fully equipped and carries 2,000 feet of chemical hose, 46 feet of ladder, 40 gallons of chemical, two three gallon hand chemicals, axes, pike pole, 1,200 feet of 2 1-2-inch hose and three nozzels.

The pumper is a six cylinder 120-horse power motor with 5 3-4 to 6 1-2 double ignition. It is one of the best on the market and Fire Chief Louis Bausch and the men who will operate it are highly pleased with the official tests made yesterday.

HUNS WANT NEUTRAL BOARD TO PROBE WAR

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Berlin, Tuesday, June 3.—Professor Hans Delbrueck, General Count Max Montgelas, and Prof. Weber, German experts at Versailles have drawn up a long memorandum on the question of responsibility for the war which will be presented as a reply to the entente commission's report on the subject.

The memorandum argues the necessity of submitting the question to an impartial commission for investigation and denies there was any secret plot between Berlin and Vienna to destroy Serbia. It says that the German government could not accept the efforts of Sir Edward Grey, the British secretary for foreign affairs in 1914, who offered to mediate, because it doubted his powers to check the warlike aspirations of Russia. Emperor Nicholas' proposal to refer the dispute to The Hague also failed, it is said, because on the same day that the proposal was made the mobilization of 13 army corps was ordered. Russia's imperialistic policy, the memorandum argues, made war with Germany inevitable. It says that Germany's war against France was one of defense and admits that Germany's naval policy was of such a nature as to arouse the distrust of Great Britain.

YANKEE MARINES LAND ON COSTA RICA COAST

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

San Salvador Republic of Salvador, June 4.—American marines have landed at Punta Arenas and Port Lima, Costa Rica because of the revolution against the government headed by General Tinco according to despatches printed in newspapers here.

The revolution in Costa Rica has been going on for the past two months but has been attracting considerable attention in Central American countries for the past two weeks. Forces said to have recruited from political exiles formed bands along the Nicaraguan frontier near Lake Nicaragua and advanced southward, clashing on several occasions with forces commanded by Joaquin Tinco, Costa Rican minister of war. The fighting has been restricted almost entirely to the mountainous country near the Nicaraguan border, although recently skirmishes further south have been reported. The situation is quite obscure owing to the fact that the reports from Costa Rica have been of a conflicting nature. Punta Arenas is a port on the Pacific coast of Costa Rica and is the pacific terminus of the railroad extending across Costa Rica to Port Limon, which is the most important harbor on the Atlantic side of the country.

"Wonderful," is the word used by Mrs. Wills in telling the story to her druggist a few days ago and the facts warranted its use:

Wolfe's Drug Store: For several years past I have been very nervous and in a weakened condition on account of my age. Every little noise or excitement would make me very nervous and I wouldn't sleep at night. I read in the paper where Nerv-Worth was helping so many people and decided to try it. I have taken several bottles now and my nervousness is all gone and I sleep better at night and am much stronger. It is surely a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to anyone freely.

SAVE YOUR TEETH FROM PYORRHOEA

Before They Loosen and Fall Out—Tender, Bleeding Gums Are Warning Signals of Dangerous Riggs Disease. How to Treat at Home.

Don't lose your teeth from Pyorrhoea or Riggs Disease. It's unnecessary now. There is no reason why everybody cannot have good teeth and healthy gums and be free of the humiliation of sore, diseased gums and unsightly, decaying teeth.

You needn't have your teeth pulled or wear false ones. Simply go to T. J. Evans or any live local druggist and ask for one ounce of Epithol—remember the name, E-P-I-T-O-L, and use it as directed.

This is the prescription of a famous New York dentist and it seems to work like magic on loose teeth and sore, tender, inflamed, receding, shrunken, spongy, bleeding or pus-discharging gums. Teeth tighten and the gums grow sound and healthy and the bleeding pus discharge soon stops. Both dentists and users are amazed at the wonderful improvement it brings so quickly.

All the druggists named above dispense Epithol on the positive guarantee that unless it gives satisfactory results the money paid for it will be refunded. This makes its trial a safe and easy matter and certainly proves its value.—Adv.

Those Who Run May Read!

A lack of civic improvement is stamped indelibly across the face of any community. It shows in hundreds of painfully obvious ways—in condition and appearance of streets, poor water, bad sewerage, lack of modern fronts to business property, poor street lighting, poorly painted dwellings, badly kept lawns. It shows in schools, banks, factories.

"PROGRESS" is more than a word. It has tangible aspects. It can be seen and measured.

We know what happens to the community that lacks civic pride. It has a run-down appearance. People who visit such communities as prospective residents, or INDUSTRIAL PROSPECTS, get the opinion that such a community is a "DEAD ONE." AND THEY ARE RIGHT.

The prospect doesn't have to visit the community to learn whether it's a "DEAD ONE" or not—Communities have reputations—the same as individuals—and there are government and state reports that clearly set forth each community's conditions. Remember comparisons and data are always available.

The progressive and successful manufacturer of today, who is looking for the best place to locate his factory will choose that community which, other things being equal, will care best for its citizens.

NOW and in the years to come the race is on between communities and that community is going to succeed most that recognizes the INDUSTRIAL HARMONY.

President Wilson gave first prominence in his message to Congress, to the pending questions of Labor and Capital. He said a number of things that meet the hearty assent of all parties, and which express the thoughts most people have been entertaining.

When he said that "we cannot live our right life as a nation, and achieve our proper success as an industrial community if capital and labor are to continue to be antagonistic instead of being partners," he said something that is obvious to everyone. No group of men ever accomplish much when they spend their energy quarreling, or when they are jealous of each other. They must work with team play before they accomplish anything.

There needs to be closer intimacy between Capital and Labor. Labor needs to know a lot more about Capital and Capital needs to know a lot more about labor. Each side needs to realize how vitally essention the hearty co operation of the other side is to the welfare of the whole.

The President didn't suggest anything definite. That is up to Congress. The law-makers should not be content with vague resolutions and makeshift measures. They should get next to the leaders of Capital and Labor, and devote their best statesmanship to the problem of bringing them into harmonious agreement.

Legislaton can not go very far. Voluntary effort and the mutual spirit of conciliation are necessary. But it would be a great help if some national body could be created, in which representatives of the mechanic classes could meet in constant conference with representatives of the capitalists, and try to find some basis for mutual agreement and harmonious union.

ACROSS THE OCEAN.

The completion of the first air passage across the Atlantic Ocean will rank for all times as a great triumph of human daring and a superb mechanical and scientific achievement. It is not to be regarded as a mere dare-devil stunt.

Very practical ends have been accomplished. One of them immediately obvious is that it will help solve the problem of keeping Germany in order.

At the time of the armistice plans were being matured for sending a large number of planes to Europe by air route. The planes took up a great deal of space in vessels which was all needed for other equipment. Whether any big delivery could have been made by air route was an open question. If successful this means of transporting them would have been an immense aid to the American army.

The experiments in delivering planes by air to Europe ought to be worked out so that in case of emergency a great mass of them could be delivered across the water within a short time. Conditions are going to remain unsettled in Europe for a considerable time. Germany will be much more likely to keep quiet and behave herself if she could be made to realize that in case of revolt a thousand American planes could be on the Rhine within a few days.

It seems likely enough that air navigation will be so perfected within a few years that regular flights will take place across the ocean. This will be of great benefit to science, to business, to people in personal relations. Urgently needed materials will come over in a day or two. It is conceivable that business men and statesmen may come to depend upon this speedy means of travel, for prompt settlement of great commercial and national issues. So this this achievement is not to be looked at as a mere display of adventure spirit, but as a service to the country that may profoundly affect national and daily life.

The vote of 304 to 89 of the National House for Woman Suffrage shows that the Congressmen have a thoroughly intelligent conception of who the real bosses are in this country.

Doughnut Day was celebrated for the Salvation Army drive. Nothing new about that, the kids have always celebrated it when ever the pantry was left unlocked.

It must be expensive to maintain telephone and telegraph and light poles now, with the automobiles taking down everything set up along the roadside.

Germans keep on denying they weren't responsible for the war. If they keep on saying so much longer, they may begin to believe it themselves.

About the time the politicians report a delectable condition of harmony, is the time for the people to listen for the soft tread of the gumshoes.

Considering how the Pacifists and red flaggers keep gabbing, there should be a movement to Americanize a lot of the Americans.

It is denied that Russian paper money is worthless, as you can always kindle a fire with it on cold mornings.

Present indications are that the German people will be celebrating Pay Up Week continuously for about 30 years.

Here in Newark the families with children are observing Clean-Up Week every day in the year.

Out in Africa the savages are observing Dress Up Week by putting on a plug hat.

SEETHING MEXICO.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

American attention has for months been pretty well monopolized by events in Europe, with first the war and later with discussions of peace. Meanwhile it cannot be forgotten that we have a problem particularly our own much nearer home—the old-new problem of Mexico. Disquieting reports continue to drift across our southwestern border. There is accumulating evidence that Carranza may be nearing an end of his brief and tumutuous administration.

Mexica has been excluded from immediate membership in the league of nations, and the suggestion is made that the United States might consent to act as mandatory over the rebellious republic. Whether such a formal commission is accepted or not, the obvious duty of the United States is to see that reasonable order is maintained.

Carranza, who owes his presidency to the favor of the United States government, has shown himself callous to any obligation toward this country. The attitude of his shaky government was earnestly pro-German as long as pro-Germanism promised any tangible results. With Germany defeated, Carranza's anti-American sentiments are but thinly veiled. The United States can not trust the Mexican president, for his policy toward us is at best shifty and at worst openly hostile.

The United States in strengthening its border defenses, which means the concentration of forces that might be pushed across the line in an emergency. There is an evident purpose not to be caught napping, on matter what may happen in Mexico.

Meanwhile, the pernicious Villa is organizing anew in the north of Mexico while Felix Diaz and his army of rebellion are growing more aggressive in the south. Affairs appear to be approaching a crisis, with Carranza ruling over a riotous capital and not much inclined to venture outside the city to crush his enemies. Carrancistas active in the former military enterprises of their chief have grown fat and torpid from government concessions. They have had all the fighting they want and cannot be trusted to stand by their chief in any new crisis. Obregon, for instance, the only Mexican who ever defeated Villa and a trusted Carranza lieutenant, refuses further service. The federal army, he declares, cannot be relied on. The cause of Carranza slips toward oblivion.

What the policy of the United States is to be in the face of new developments now seemingly at hand remains to be determined. Its formulation cannot be long delayed. It should be a policy of positiveness, of definite, clearly expressed purpose a policy that will serve notice to Mexico and to the world that the United States is through with half measures, through with mere waiting, through with halting uncertainty in its handling of its Mexican obligation.

Did You Know

That the Escurial is a famous monastery at New Castle, Spain? It has been called the eighth wonder of the world, and at the time of its erection surpassed every building of its kind in size and magnificence. The Escurial was begun in 1563 and finished in 1584, and was intended to serve as a palace, mausoleum, and monastery. Kings only, and mothers of kings are buried here. The building is in the form of a gridiron, in allusion to the instrument of St. Lorenzo's martyrdom, the monastery being dedicated to this saint. The Escurial was struck by lightning in 1872 and partially burned.

YORK, TENNESSEE'S MUHLENBERG.

(Philadelphia Ledger.)

While a certain type of mind will squirm these days as it reads of the honors that crowd the path of Sergt. Alvin C. York, of Tennessee, who, like the captains of Bible times, slew twenty-five Germans and captured 132 in one engagement, although he was an elder in the Church of Christ and was opposed to war, at the same time, for most healthy-minded Americans, York will stand as the best type of the American soldier. For Sergt. York was opposed to war and is still opposed to war. Though he has been medaled and honored by congress and by Foch, and is now being given practically the freedom of America, he is still the same simple, honest elder of the Tennessee mountains and has not become a blood-thirsty monster or a cruel and relentless advocate of might as again right. No, Elder York when he was drafted saw that there was a great idea back of America's participation in the war. He believed that "righteousness exalteth a nation" and also that it should prevail, and he convinced himself and others, too, that it was this country's duty and his, by the way, not some other person's duty who was not an objector, to put an end to the threat of might with which Germany filled the earth. As a Christian, as Dr. Van Dyke has pointed out, York made that tremendous and necessary distinction between hate and righteous abhorrence of wrong, without which abhorrence moral and spiritual concepts are a mere feeble beating of the winds. So, as our own Muhlenberg did in the Revolutionary days, Elder York saw that there was a time for fighting as well as a time for prayer and exhortation. And that he returns to his homeland fit in body and mind and modest withal warrants the enthusiasm over him, since what he does and says is a rebuke to those who would have us believe that this high police duty that our men performed across the ocean has permanently impaired the American character. As Sergt. York proves, aas it were on behalf of all his associates, it has given them a clearer vision of actualities and a new sense of the value of peace, but not a peace at the cost of dishonor, at the cost of right helpless before wrong unpunished and unrepentant.

LARGEST AMERICAN BATTLE

The Argonne-Meuse battle fought by our First Army was the largest battle in American history. General Pershing's forces engaged were about ten times as large as those of General Lee at Gettysburg. It was a vital element in the conquest of the German forces and our main contribution to the war's decision. The first great battle of the new British armies, the Somme, occurred 11 months after Great Britain entered the war. Our army went into its first great struggle 19 months after our declaration. Half of the troops and officers of ours were green and our corps and army staffs had had but the very scant, hasty experience acquired in the Marne-Ourcq campaign under the French and our own operation at St. Mihiel. The place to be attacked was extremely difficult and General von der Marwitz and his troops were seasoned and formidable opponents. Under the circumstances it was just as reasonable to look for a terrible catastrophe such as befell the British at Gallipoli, the French in the Champagne in 1917, or the Germans in the Champagne in July, 1918, as to look for a decisive victory—perhaps more so.

The state of our army would naturally have suggested spending five or six months more in preparation for such a task. The state of the war incontinently demanded that we tackle the problem immediately in whatever shape we were to handle it.—Arthur W. Page in the World's Work for June.

Spirit of the Press

Taxing Luxuries.

There is a movement to have the tax on luxuries repealed. Why this should be is not apparent. But it really seems to an outsider that the people who buy luxuries are generally the people who have the money to pay the tax on them. It is answered to this that the tax on luxuries prevents the poor man from buying luxuries, and he is therefore deprived of one of the resources of joy, which he has as much right to as the rich man. To this argument the answer is that there is less real benefit in a luxury than there is in a substantial, and therefore the consumption of the latter should be encouraged. That is one good reason for abstaining from lobster and pate de foie gras.—Ohio State Journal.

Universal Training.

We do not want to maintain a great standing army. We long ago adopted a system of compulsory education, and military training might be made a phase of that education without departure from our principles and with large advantage to the character and usefulness of our young men. But above all this, the chief value of universal training, under democratic conditions, would be in the increased realization of every man that he is a citizen of the United States, that citizenship has definite obligations, that he, however, humble, is a component part of the nation and must share in its responsibilities as well as its privileges.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Switzerland as an Asylum.

It is said that the former German Crown Prince, like his once illustrious father, the ex-Kaiser, is desirous of obtaining an asylum in Switzerland instead of Holland. Other German Junker leaders are also credited with coveting the seclusion of the Swiss valleys. Switzerland has been quite liberal in the matter of giving refuge to people who combine wealth with the desire to obtain safe seclusion. The laws of the mountain country make requisition by other powers extremely difficult and in many cases substantially impossible. As for the Hohenzollerns are credited with having retained large amounts of the gold which the Swiss so much admire, they may find that country a fairly safe harbor.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

His "Snakeship's" Conversation.

That serpents are less mute than we think is shown by W. H. Hudson in his reminiscent volume of naturalist explorations in the Argentine pampas. He specifies the Philodryas oestivus—a beautiful and harmless colubrine snake, 2½ to 3 feet long, marked all over with inky black on a vivid green ground—and states that it not only emitted a sound when lying undisturbed in its den, but several individuals would hold together a conversation that seemed endless. It was a hissing conversation, though not unmodulated or without considerable variety. "A long sibilation would be followed by distinctly heard ticking sounds, as of a husky-ticking clock, and after 10 or 20 or 30 ticks, another hiss, like a long-expiring sigh, sometimes with a trouble in it, as of a dry leaf vibrating in the wind. No sooner would one cease than another would begin; and so it would go on, demand and response, strophe and antistrophe; and at intervals several voices would unite in a kind of long mysterious chorus, death-watch or hiss."

The situation in Mexico is reported chaotic.—Detroit News.

NEWARK WOMEN TO CONDUCT A WAR SAVINGS CAMPAIGN ON 12TH, 13TH, 14TH OF JUNE.

Fifty prominent Newark women assembled at the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon through invitation of Mrs. Ernest T. Johnson, county chairman of the women's division of the Ohio War Savings committee, and laid plans for a War Savings Stamp drive in this city on June 12, 13 and 14.

Leaders were selected for each of the six wards of the city and these ward chairmen are now choosing workers to assist them in a thorough canvass to be conducted on the 12th 13th and 14th of June.

First Ward—Mrs. J. W. Weakley.
Second Ward—Mrs. J. A. Mitchell.
Third Ward—Miss Anna Stare.
Fourth Ward—Mrs. T. J. Appleyard, jr.
Fifth Ward—Mrs. Fred S. Wright.
Sixth Ward—Mrs. Walter Bainbridge.

In 1918 the people of Licking county bought more than $1,500,000 worth of War Savings Stamps, this county being one of the first in the state to complete its quota. Of the 1919 quota approximately $575,000 worth of stamps remain to be sold. The sale of these stamps will put Licking county in the 100 per cent class as Licking county has scored a perfect record in all war activities to date. The only "war job" that remains for the people of this county is the sale of the remainder of this year's quota of W. S. S. and the county will not rank 100 per cent until that task is finished.

The women of Newark will conduct their campaign June 12, 13 and 14. They will not sell stamps but will secure pledges for the purchase of stamps.

In sales of stamps from January 1 to May 1, Licking county ranked twelfth among the 88 counties of Ohio.

The Ohio war savings committee announces that a $10,000 memorial shaft will be presented to the county that makes the best record of sales in June, July and August. This does not mean the largest volume but the largest percentage according to each county's quota, and the quota is based upon population.

Mrs. Johnson is now organizing the county districts for a campaign to be conducted after the Newark drive of June 12, 13 and 14.

Miss Margaret Knight of Columbus, who has recently returned from France, was a guest at yesterday's meeting and gave a very interesting talk on her experiences in the hospitals of France.

Women of the city who are willing to assist in the women's thrift drive of June 12, 13 and 14 are requested to notify one of the ward leaders named above, or Mrs. E. T. Johnson, whose Automatic 'phone number is 7289.

W. S. S. are not taxable. They pay 4.27 per cent interest. They cannot be lost if registered, and they may be cashed at any time upon 10 days notice. The interest grows each month. A stamp costing $4.17 this month is worth $4.18 in July. The purchase of W. S. S. is putting money in the United States savings bank where it is available for use at any time.

CHARLEY HAD BRIGHT IDEA

Probably the First Time He Had Ever Really Believed in Food Conservation.

Little Charley was bashful. He didn't like to meet all of his mother's aid colleagues, and he didn't care much for girl cousins at family reunions. In school he didn't even have the most common impulse to twist the hair of little Mary Jones in front of him, or even stick the brown braid in the inkwell. He was distinctly modest.

The family was out on a motor trip. They were nearing a city in eastern Indiana, and it was about noon, so naturally they thought a little about eating. This was the topic of discussion.

"Um," said the father, "there is a nice hotel in Main street."

Little Charley writhed. Eat in a hotel with people in it? It was bad enough to go in a hotel with people in it, but eat in a hotel with people in it—never.

The rest of the family didn't see it that way. They were for getting a semi-country meal in this little city. Finally, they decided to make for the hotel for sure.

Charley was in despair. He didn't know what to do. They were determined to go to the hotel and then—— He had the idea!

"Papa," he said, weakly, "let's don't eat this noon."

"Well, why are you suggesting such a thing, anyway?"

"You see, um—ah, well, daddy, Mr. Wilson says to win the war, and Mr. Hoover says food will do it. Let's conserve!"—Indianapolis News.

WORLD HAS MUCH COCHINEAL

Little Probability That the Supply Will Fall Much Below the Demand.

In the first half of the last century the culture and growth of the cochineal insect was introduced, and so successfully carried out in various parts of the old world that the quantity yearly produced now rivals the whole amount obtained from Central America, the source from which all foreign supplies were first obtained. In 1831 the culture of the cochineal was commenced on the Canary islands, and the first crop consisted of only 8 pounds; in 1832, it was 120 pounds; in 1833, it had risen to 1,319; and in 1849, the enormous quantity of 800,000 pounds was exported from these islands, the greater part of which was sent to England and France. In 1845 the quantity of cochineal produced in Java, under the patronage of the Dutch government, mounted to 45,000 pounds. Under the auspices of the French government, plantations were commenced in Algeria, which promise to succeed admirably. Some specimens already exported are pronounced to be superior to the finest qualities from Mexico. Soils unfit for the cultivation of the vine, or potato, readily support the cactus, on which the cochineal insect feeds, while the insect can be more readily raised than the silkworm, and with less chances of loss.

Who'd 'a' Thought It?

That favorite of all "chowder" lovers—the clam—has now, we understand, a rival in the culinary field, and that no other than the humble barnacle, so long regarded merely in the light of a pest. A writer in Popular Mechanics Magazine says:

"The barnacle is being converted into soup and other forms of food, having taken its place beside clam chowder in various cafes and hotels in Southern California. The piling of the Pine Avenue pier at Long Beach is incrusted with more than 100 tons of these and other sea creatures, which are being stripped off and will be utilized for food. Here and at San Pedro canning plants are arranging to put up barnacles in large quantities. As the demand for barnacle soup increases, canning plants purpose to contract for the creatures removed from the bottoms of ships."

Castro Made Sure of Salary.

President Ebert will draw his salary every month, like President Wilson. President Poincare is paid every three months. Castro, who was president of Venezuela from 1899 to 1908, used to make the treasury pay him daily. When elected his salary was fixed at $144,000 a year, payable monthly. On drawing his first month's pay Castro told the minister of finance that henceforth he must send him $400 in gold every morning, "that being the best way to make sure of my salary in this revolution-ridden land." During the nine years of his presidency exchequer funds often ran low, but the autocrat's daily wage was always forthcoming, as he warned each successive minister of finance that failure to provide it would mean summary dismissal.

Spare the Garter Snake.

It is said that in Klamath Falls, Ore., it is an offense to kill a garter snake, and that an easterner who killed one of these snakes was fined $5 by a Klamath Falls magistrate. The garter snake is harmless and may be useful, but persons unaccustomed to having snakes around become nervous when they run across so harmless a reptile as the garter snake, and the first thought in their minds is to put the snake out of business.—Utica Press.

Its Nature.

"Don't take any self-estimate of herself."

"Why not?"

"It is bound to be a self-representation."

Charity covereth a multitude of sins, but it also uncovers a lot of sinners.

Each team will use four boys in the relay race. The system of scoring will be: First place, 5 points, second place, 3 points; third place, 1 point. SWIMMING EXPERT TO DISCUSS POPULAR SPORT

A series of articles on "how to teach swimming," prepared by W. L. Grieser of the Y. M. C. A., will appear in the Advocate during the rest of the week. Grieser spent one year at the Y. M. C. A. college in Massachusetts and is a graduate of the School of Physical Education, Lake Geneva, Wisconsin summer schools. He has taught swimming in Newport News, Marietta and Springfield, [illegible]; was in charge of swimming activities in two Y. M. C. A. boys camps, and during the summer of 1918, while in Uncle Sam's service, he was the head life guard at Eagle Lake, located at Camp Custer, Michigan. While Grieser has spent much of his time teaching men and boys to swim, his big summer work in Marietta was specializing on teaching women to swim or to swim better. His long and varied experience permits him to discuss the different methods employed in teaching others to swim. Grieser says:

"There are several reasons why I want these 'chats' published. The first is, that I never did agree with the idea of throwing anyone in deep water with the false notion that he will then and there learn how to swim or go down. The second reason is, that too few people can really explain to a non-swim

NEWARK BOY MEETS NEIGHBOR IN FRANCE

The only Licking County man Robert Fulton met while in service in France was Guy Bazler, son of T. A. Bazler, undertaker, who lived only a short distance from Fulton's former home in North Fifth street when he entered the service. In a letter to the Advo cate, Fulton expresses his thanks for the service medal which he received just before he was ordered to the Rhine as part of the Army of Occupation. His letter follows:

ROBERT FULTON.

"You will pardon me I hope, for my tardiness in replying to your fine letter, but I received it just on the eve of our departure for Germany to become a part of the Army of Occupation. From that time until the present my leisure has been practically nil, but now that we are all nicely settled in our new home (not home, but almost) on the Rhine the tension has lessened considerably, and I have lots of time to spare.

"The medal is fine and I certainly appreciate the spirit which prompted the giving of it. I was fortunate to go through through on two fronts without a scratch, and hope all the other fellows from Licking County fare equally well. The only man I have met since arriving in France a year ago is a chap named Bazler who lived at 75 North Fifth street, just a block from where I lived for so long a time. Quite a coincidence, isn't it, particularly so when it also developed that I had been driving a car for Jim Fitzgibbon?

"I am getting more optimistic every day about our homecoming. It really begins to look now as if we had a chance to get back before the summer is over. Here's hoping anyhow."

Wall Street.
New York, June 4.—All traces of the excited dealings which characterized yesterday's session were lacking at the opening of the stock market today. Starting off in an orderly fashion with the majority of shares showing a decided upward tendency the list soon exhibited greater strength all around, with the rise pronounced in some of the recent popular issues. Motors, Oils, Sugars, Central Leather, Reading, Southern Pacific, Corn Copper, American Woolen, Goodrich, American Locomotives and American International, improved 1 to 5 points. Tobaccos were heavy as were Bethlehem Steel and Mercantile Marines.

The liquidation of stocks resulting from the calling of bank loans yesterday obviously improved the speculative situation and during the forenoon today there was extensive buying for both accounts again. The fact that money was in abundant supply at six per cent. exerted a favorable influence on speculative sentiment. American Woolen climbed 14 points to 126 with a relapse of 8 points. Goodrich, General Motors, Maxwell Motors, second preferred, Studebaker, Mexican Petroleum and Pan-American Petroleum all registered advances of 1 to 7 points. United States steel moved within a half point range but representative rails made good upward progress.

Cleveland Produce.
Cleveland, June 4.—Produce market unchanged.

Chicago Grain Review.
Chicago, June 4.—Corn today lacked the snap which has characterized the market of late. Opening prices, which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to 7-8c lower with July 1.70 1-4 to $1.70¾, and September $1.61½ to $1.62, were followed by moderate declines all around.

Oats were off with corn. After opening ¼c to ½c down, including July at 68 1-8c to 68¼c, the market underwent a further setback.

Provisions declined with grain and hogs. Pork especially was weak.

Chicago Produce.

JESS MAY CHANGE STYLE IN BIG BOUT; HOW HE LOOKS TODAY

Two poses of Jess Willard, snapped recently in Chicago while he was working out.

Jess Willard always has been content to tire out his opponent and then simply outpoint him. In his bout with Johnson Jess outwaited the negro who claimed to be a pastmaster at that game. But in the coming bout with Jack Dempsey, Willard may have to let himself out to prevent Dempsey from winning on points should the fight go the limit. Dempsey undoubtedly will force the milling.

AMUSEMENTS

AUDITORIUM.
Mrs. Chaplin is Boss.

Charlie Chaplin may throw all the pies and break all the dishes he pleases in pictures, but "from this day forth" he must conduct himself in a gentle, dignified manner at home. For, be it known, Charlie now is the husband of demure little Mildred Harris, the talented little girl, who is now appearing in "When a Girl Loves," a thrilling six-reel Jewel Production.

"I never can reform him in pictures," Miss Harris said the other day, "because the people want to see him only in slap-stick comedy. But there'll be no 'monkey shines' in the Chaplin home, you can bet on that."

Despite the hot, torrid weather, large crowds have flocked to the Auditorium to see Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Chaplin. The last screenings of both "When A Girl Loves" and "The Bank" will be seen today.

"A Midnight Romance."

Starting tomorrow for three days, the Auditorium theatre will present a "Made By Women" motion picture production. It is "A Midnight Romance," the second of the new series of special feature attractions starring Miss Anita Stewart.

The story, suggested by Marion Orth, prominent among the stellar feminine lights in scenariodom, is that of an unnamed girl who, with other passengers is rescued from a stranded ocean liner. She obtains employment at a fashionable society watering place, and is known as Marie, the maid, seventh floor, left wing. She vouchsafes no explanation for her velvet soft hands and her intelligence of expression in conversation. She unwittingly upsets the bachelor vows of a wealthy young guest of the hotel; she becomes the accomplice of two society crooks, a man and woman, seeking to victimize the object of her affections, and she manages finally to turn the tables on them; she pervades everyone and everything with whom she comes in contact with an air of mystery, suspense and difficulty. In the end she untangles the numerous situations in a denouement that is bewildering for its surprises and unexpected developments.

Miss Lois Weber is the director who produced the picture. She it was who rented one of the largest and most fashionable hotels in Los Angeles and worked the cast of "A Midnight Romance" from midnight until morning each day for weeks in its corridors, rooms and the lobby to obtain the necessary realistic effects in settings for the numerous situations.

"The Big Little Person."

A young school teacher, forced to support herself and her mother after her father's suicide, only to be overtaken by what is declared by a famous specialist to be permanent deafness is the role taken by Mae Murray in "The Big Little Person," a new Universal attraction, to be seen at the Auditorium theatre next Sunday. Miss Murray is said to handle the part with a sympathy and understanding that does her great credit.

"Bolshevism on Trial."

One of the most wonderful pictures that has ever appeared upon the screen will be seen on Monday when Select Pictures offers its tremendous production, "Bolshevism on Trial," at the Auditorium theatre. This picture is thrilling, absorbing and timely with a beautiful love story running through it.

It depicts vividly the life of a Socialistic community where Socialism becomes Bolshevism and liberty, license. The picture is not a war picture; it has absolutely nothing to do with the war. It does not deal with Bolshevism as it is in our own country. Excellently directed, it shows vividly that with the spread of Bolshevism our country would become like ravaged and desolate bleeding Russia.

ALHAMBRA.
Madlaine Traverse.

Madlaine Traverse, the motion picture star, is one of those persons who believe that women can do anything a man can do, and she put some of her theories to the test after she had purchased an automobile. One of the first things she did was to drive into the congested traffic in Los Angeles. She said:

"Men have no trouble handling a car in the crowds. Why should I?"

And she had no trouble. Soon she heard of a particularly hard motor drive over the Hollywood mountain. She went up and over this mountain and when she had completed the ride, she said to her friends:

"There! I was told I shouldn't attempt that ride without having a man to drive; but you see, women can do it too."

Miss Traverse will be seen today at the Alhambra theatre in "The Love That Dares," a new William Fox production.

Houdini in the last episode of "The Master Mystery" is also seen.

"Go West, Young Man."

In "Go West, Young Man" Tom Moore finds himself the tenderfoot sheriff of a rough Western town. He does not seek the honor—it is thrust upon him. Fresh from his Eastern home, which he has left because of a stinging rebuke from his father, Tom Moore as Dick Latham meets with many amusing and dramatic adventures beginning from the moment when Godson, a leading light of the town who masks his leadership of a band of outlaws under a righteous exterior, forces Dick to wear the sheriff's silver star.

"Go West, Young Man" comes to the Alhambra theatre, Friday.

"Model Girls."

The Prizma subject "Model Girls", shown at the Alhambra Friday, is one of the best of these natural color pictures, so far seen. This shows models from the wax to the really live ones. "Model Girls is an added feature to the Goldwyn feature "Go West, Young Man."

Anna Q. Nilsson.

Anna Q. Nilsson, who will be seen at the Alhambra theatre Sunday for a one-day engagement in the Metro drama, "The Way of the Strong," plays a dual role which provides unusual scope for her rare talents.

In the first scenes of the play she appears as a weak, unfaithful wife, while later on she is seen in the powerful role of Monica Norton, a girl of Monica Norton, a girl of strong character who brings hope and happiness to many lives. It is a role revealing all the personal charm of the clever actress as well as the power of her dramatic art.

GRAND.
Today.

This evening the final run of "Human Shuttles" will be made. The two stars, Harold Lockwood and Miss May Allison pleased hundreds of patrons yesterday afternoon and evening, even though the weather was unusually warm, and staying indoors was a hardship, but so pleasing was the work of the stars that the heat was not noticed.

The Christie comedy, "When Bobby Comes Marching Home" is a big scream.

Tomorrow and Friday.

The story, "Maid of the Storm" opens on the rocky shores of Scotland and shows Miss Barriscale as a young girl who has been saved from a shipwreck when an infant by Andy MacTavish, an old fisherman. While she is living at the fisherman's hut, Franklin Shirley, a young London aristocrat, has trouble with his aeroplane while flying over the shores of Scotland and he sustains a broken leg when his machine alights. He is nursed by the little miss and she falls in love with him.

Added feature, Billy West in "Candy Kid."

GEM.
Today.

This is the only day on which "Caught in the Act," the William Fox photoplay starring Peggy Hyland, may be seen at the Gem. Miss Hyland plays the part of a romantic schoolgirl. By means of a needle and thread she wins the man she loves; but before this happy ending is reached the heroine goes through a multitude of adventurous experiences.

The added feature today is Mutt and Jeff.

Tomorrow.

"Peggy," the Triangle play featuring Billie Burke, was especially written to give free play to the unusual gifts of this vivacious little star, who possesses one of the most charming personalities of the screen. It is a comedy, because this is Miss Burke's undoubted field. But "Peggy" also contains good, sound drama. This picture is being shown at the Gem today only. In addition will be shown an LKO comedy.

SCOTCH HIGHLANDERS BAND GIVES CONCERT

The Royal Scotch Highlanders band, wearing the uniform of the old Gordan clan, will appear in Newark, Sunday afternoon, in the courthouse park in a free concert, the band having been brought to this city under the auspices of the local lodge of Elks. A silver offering will be taken to defray expenses. Should there be a surplus it will be turned over to the Salvation Army fund. The band will occupy a large platform which will be erected in the southeast corner of the park. The band is on its way to Atlantic City, where it will appear daily at the million-dollar pier during the summer season.

The band is under the direction of Roy D. Smith and this is its first appearance in the east, although it is well known throughout the wes tand south.

Included among the soloists of the band is Bobby Broillier, Scotch tenor, who during the engagements in St. Petersburg, where the band played two concerts daily, responded to four and five encores at every appearance. Audiences in the city park where the band played dubbed him as a second Harry Lauder. He features a number of Lauder's best compositions and the old numbers which have made the Scotch balladist famous all over the world. Broiller has a rich voice, with a volume especially suited to outdoor and large auditorium work.

Other soloists include: Sergeant Turner Nearing, who has just returned to the band after serving in the fighting forces of America, and who has few, if any, peers as a solo cornetist; Manuel Yingling, a composer, takes care of the trombone solo work; "Happy" Kent, xylophone soloist, and John Prestin, solo clarinet.

SCHOOLBOY FORMS 2 BRING 'EM BACK CLUBS

Lester Jones Berry, a boy in the seventh grade at Woodside school, has given credit for having bought $1000 worth of War Savings stamps and forming two "Bring 'Em Back" clubs. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer S. Berry, have each bought $1000 worth of stamps, besides having bought bonds and stamps last year.

NEWARK SOLDIER TO SPEAK AT ROCKY FORK

Max Norpell, who served in the 332nd regiment in Italy, will deliver a memorial address, Sunday afternoon at the memorial service at Rocky Fork. The service will be held at 2 o'clock. Children's day exercises will be held at 8 o'clock in the evening.

NEWARK VETERANS TO HAVE PART IN CEREMONY

An appeal for the use of automobiles Sunday to convey Newark G. A. R. Veterans to Memorial Park at Black Run where each statue will be decorated with a wreath, has been issued by J. H. Miller and Fred C. Evans.

Commander Felix C. Robertson of Lemert Post will place a wreath on the statue of General Grant as a part of the ceremony. Other Central Ohio posts will place wreaths on other statues during the day.

"If friends of the G. A. R. who have automobiles, will arrange to take one or more of them down to the park, and will phone Mr. Evans or Mr. Miller, 1032 or 1566, it will help very much to work out the plan," the statement says.

Capt. G. H. Playford of the Union Veteran Legion, No. 15, of Zanesville, is completing arrangements for fitting memorial services at Baughman Memorial park, near Black Run, Sunday, June 8. Hundreds of members of the G. A. R., the U. V. L., as well as veterans of the world war from all parts of Ohio are expected to be in attendance. Representatives of G. A. R. posts of Franklin, Coshocton, Licking and Muskingum counties will have important parts on the program.

3 Days Starting Tomorrow

A lighted match showed that she was very pretty.

They were alone together—

It was the witching hour of midnight, the croon of the night wind and murmur of the waves against the rocks that hid them from the huge summer hotel were the music to which she had been skipping over the sands when first he saw her.
They were truants, these two, runaways from the treadmill of life.
He had called and asked if he might join in her revel. Something in his voice reassured her. So they ran, and swam and talked. Finally—"I dare you to dive off that rock," she said. When he came back she was gone. He had failed to learn her name or whence she came.
He haunted the beach nightly, without avail. She was the first woman, handsome, wealthy Roger Sloan had ever really wanted and failed to interest.
He often passed her in the hotel corridors, but her maid's uniform and averted face masked her. Of course he finds her—

Thus begins the story of Marie, the mystery girl from Nowhere, heroine of

Famo Stops Seborrhea and Grows Healthy Hair

We ask you to put FAMO to the most exacting test.

Have a member of your family examine your scalp before you start the use of FAMO.

Apply FAMO daily for one month.

Have your scalp examined again.

If they do not report the growth of new hair, return the FAMO bottle to where you purchased it and you will receive your money back.

FAMO DOES grow new hair luxuriantly.

It makes the hair fluffy and soft.

FAMO intensifies a natural tendency to waviness and retards grayness. It contains no harmful alcohol to dry the scalp and produce gray hair.

Every woman should use FAMO regularly.

Its use is a daily habit you will enjoy.

But not only does FAMO beautify the hair.

FAMO kills the deadly seborrhea microbe which is the cause of dandruff.

It stops all itching of the scalp and nourishes and feeds the hair roots.

It penetrates the scalp without massage and gives life and sheen to the hair.

FAMO was evolved by scientists in one of the famous laboratories of Detroit.

Three years were spent in perfecting it before it was offered to the public.

The ingredients in FAMO have never before been used on the head.

But they have been well known to medical science for many years.

They work differently from any other hair preparation.

FAMO stands alone.

If your hair is thin and lacks lustre and the dandruff scale causes constant irritation of the scalp, you should start the use of FAMO at once.

It destroys the dandruff bacilli.

FAMO is sold at all toilet goods counters in two sizes—35 cents and $1. The dollar bottle is extra large and contains four times as much as the smaller size.

Applications of FAMO may be had at the better barber shops and hair dressing establishments.

The Hair and Freckles.

A certain amount of oil is necessary to the growth of the hair. Crude oil or castor oil are the best tonics. Here is a good lotion for oily hair and it has [illegible] properties. Three ounces of white vaseline, one ounce of distilled water and forty grains of resorcin. Mix well and apply every night.

Here is another good tonic that contains some oil, but is not excessively oily. One half pint alcohol, two drams castor oil, the same of tincture of cantharides. Apply nightly after brushing the hair and massage well in. The value of any tonic depends very largely upon the massage which accompanies it.

Summer vacation freckles are hard to banish and the most efficient bleaches, with their deadly poisons, are too unsafe to use. However, here is a freckle lotion recommended by a careful physician. Acetic acid, four ounces, glycerine two ounces and rose water one ounce.

Apply it several times daily with a soft cloth, pouring the lotion as needed into a saucer. This is a cleanly precaution to observe with all skin lotions. If, after several applications, the skin is much irritated, go a night or two without the lotion, using a cooling cream instead.

An excellent remedy for dandruff is made as follows: Add 10 drops of chloroform to the yolk of an egg and beat with an egg beater to a stiff consistency. Rub a portion of this mixture, the size of an English walnut, into the scalp with the tips of the fingers, taking care to rub it thoroughly into the roots of the hair. Afterward wash the scalp with tonsin or castile soap and dry thoroughly with a soft towel. Some physicians claim that this is the only remedy for dandruff that is harmless and effective.

Our Boys and Girls

The playroom is an old and blessed institution, which has existed since the beginning of attics; but the supervised playroom, in which there is directed and systematized play, is a comparatively new departure from the old regime. Properly carried out, the idea in no way checks the child's imagination or represses it by the interference of an adult.

An adult should never tyrannize in a playroom. To "suggest" is sufficient. It is a great pity if the little ones have no playroom or not even a corner that is really their own. To have a room where there are no "don'ts," and a room where they can do as they please, is a wonderful thing and the right of every child.

Teach the child simple exercises that will develope them and yet will be a pleasure to them. If one obtains amusement and health at the same time you are "killing two birds with one stone." Entering into the children's amusements with a child-like spirit is one of the secrets of a sympathetic bond between parents and their grown-up children and one is finding more and more frequently.

Every Day Etiquette

"I am invited to a wedding. Will you tell me what kind of a gift, if any, I am expected to give. Should I send it or take it myself?" asked Mary.

"If you attend the wedding a gift is customary. It should be sent either by express or parcel post, although if you wish you can leave it at the house. The former is in better taste," helped her friend.

SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS INCREASE

Enumerators Report 301 More Children Than Last Year Indicating Larger Population in Newark.

A regular meeting of the board of education with all members present and Mrs. E. Miller presiding, was held last evening. After the allowance of bills and it being the last meeting of the month of June was allowed.

The four enumerators reported an increase of youths of school age over the previous year of 301, which indicates that Newark has steadily increased in population. The total enumeration was 6,572.

The Soliday Coal Company was the lowest of seven bidders for supplying the city with coal for the ensuing year and was awarded the contract at their bid of $3.70 per ton. Over 1,000 tons will undoubtedly be used next winter and the coal company must supply the same, regardless of what the price may be next winter.

Suptendent Oren J. Barnes reported that summer school would begin in the Central building June 23, with morning sessions only. Miss Cora Hughey will be the principal and students desiring to attend are requested to enroll at once. All teachers in the summer school will be given an increase of salary of ten per cent over that paid last summer.

Superintendent Barnes also informed the board that 120 seniors would graduate on Thursday evening, June 12, the exercises to take place at the High scohol auditorium. He stated that in company with Superintendent of Supplies Frank Handle he had visited and inspected all the buildings and made his recommendation of repairs and supplies needed by the janitors for the summer and the same was approved by the board. He also reported that the contracts of all teachers for the ensuing year had been received. Miss Marie Graham, on the recommendation of Superintendent Barnes was granted a year's leave of absence to attend college.

The board authorized the clerk to sell $100,000 worth of bonds after which it adjourned.

BELIEVE BURLESON CAN BOOST RATES ANYTIME

Columbus, June 4.—Unofficial opinion at the state public utilities commission is that the United States supreme court ruling on Burleson rates means that not only intrastate long-distance tolls but local exchange rates of any company under government control may be increased any time Burleson wants to do so.

Definite statement was withheld by commissioners, however, until contents of the decision are known more fully.

The supreme court held that Burleson has ample authority to interfere with intrastate rates. The case decided was that from South Dakota, which is one of the many states which sought to prevent Burleson's order of last January for approximately at 25 per cent increase in long-distance rates.

It is believed at the utilities commission that the supreme court ruling, by inference, will knock out the injunction of Judge Kinkead of the Franklin County common pleas court against collection of the increased rates in Ohio.

At the courthouse, however, it is thought Kinkead's injunction will stand unless the laws of South Dakota are substantially similar to those of Ohio.

Attorney General Price was gratified over the temporary injunction obtained in federal court against operation of the West Virginia law against shipping of gas into Ohio until the needs of that state are supplied. Price will attempt to have the injunction made permanent on grounds of unconstitutionality of the law.

ELKS PLAN OPEN HOUSE FOR WOMEN AT CONCERT

Three candidates, William Holler, Riley Couch and Mike Tyrer were initiated into Elkdom last night, the initiation being followed by a social session and an excellent luncheon served. Arrangements were completed for the concert by the Royal Scotch Highlanders to be given in the court house park Sunday afternoon and evening under the auspices of the local order and the receipts of same to be turned over to the Salvation Army.

Open house will be kept for the women of the city next Sunday afternoon and punch and lemonade will be served. They will find cool, pleasant rest rooms and scores can be accommodated who wish to hear the concert from the club rooms. The evening program will not take place until after church services.

Lizards and Sugar.

The chief menace to sugar cane in the West Indies is the froghopper (Thomaspis saccharina), an insect that sucks the sap from the roots and leaves of the sugar cane and that owes its name to its ability to take prodigious leaps. In recent years the insects have multiplied enormously, especially in Trinidad, where their natural enemies, frogs, toads and lizards, have been nearly exterminated by the mongoose, originally brought from India to kill the rats and snakes. Wherever the mongooses were plentiful the lizards disappeared and the froghoppers flourished. Five years ago a leading planter, after exterminating as many mongooses as possible, placed thousands of ground lizards in his cane fields, with the result that the froghoppers have almost disappeared, and the sugar yield is greatly increased and improved. Other large sugar cane growers have since started a lizard farm, where the lizards are brought in hundreds and encouraged to thrive and multiply for the sole object of combating the froghopper pest. Thousands of bats, too, are kept for the same work.—Youth's Companion.

LIGHT DERIVED FROM STARS

Illumination Far Greater Than Superficial Observation Would Lead One to Believe.

Most of the light in the sky, even at a station far removed from all sources of artificial illumination, comes from the multitude of telescopic stars, too faint for the eye to see, but so numerous that, taken all together, they send us far more light than those which we can discern individually. There is usually—perhaps always—present in addition, some light originating on the earth's atmosphere which, from the presence in its spectrum of the bright line characteristic of the aurora, betrays its place of origin.

"When we are out in the open on a clear, starry night," explains Henry Norris Russell, Ph. D., in Scientific American, "we hardly realize how strong this illumination is—it is quite enough to find one's way by across open country. But when once we get a glimpse of the sky through an opening between thick trees, we see at once that, even on a brilliant, moonless night, when the sky, as we look sharp at it, seems like black velvet powdered over with sparkling points, the background is really anything but dark.

"Now, there can be no doubt that the light—one might almost say the glare—of this general illumination of the sky drowns out the fainter stars.

"To give an illustration from common experience, whenever we see a star through a little gap in the leafage of a tree, upon the dark background, it looks much brighter than ordinary—not because it has changed at all, but on account of the greater contrast with the blackness surrounding it.

"That the human eye can actually detect exceedingly faint illumination is confirmed by experiments upon the visibility of little disks of white cardboard mounted on a black background, and observed in a dark room by the light of a single star (usually Sirius) shining through a small opening in a shutter."

HAD MADE ITS ACQUAINTANCE

Old Jed Knew Whereof He Spoke When He Warned Converts of What Awaited Them.

He was one of the perpetual converts to religion that are so common in some country districts. Whenever a minister wished to hold a revival meeting in his church he was always certain of obtaining one reliable convert, old Jed, who'd "got religion" so often his friends had lost count of the times. His custom was to be "converted" at every convenient revival meeting in proper season, and slide backward every summer in order to have his system thoroughly prepared for the next season of revivals.

Not long ago the pastor of a country church near Jed's home was baptizing in the river a number of converts, among them Jed, who was the first to be led into the water.

As Jed was dragged bodily up from the river after the ceremony he was seen to be almost in a state of collapse, and was taken to the bank with some difficulty, where he reclined limply as the minister prepared to lead the next convert into the river. However, a great light dawned on the audience gathered on shore as to what had happened to Jed, when he raised up on one elbow just as the minister reached the water's edge with the second subject for baptism, and shouted out, querulously: "Hey, parson, look out! There's a h—— of a big rock down there!"—Indianapolis News.

"Glory" of Old Sailing Days.

Looking forward to a revival of American shipping under new conditions, one can cheerfully enough accept the opinion of a veteran seaman, talking to a young reporter, that the "glory" of the old sailing days is much overrated. The billowing canvas was impressive; but the facts of the case, confides this mariner, are that the sailors had to live in quarters that were badly ventilated, if ventilated at all, badly lighted and cramped almost beyond endurance. A steady diet of hardtack and "salt horse" mitigated the glory of the sea, while chanteys, although they helped things along, were often compulsory, and little joy to the sailor man who was singing to order.—Christian Science Monitor.

In Bad Shape.

Often at inspections it is customary for officers to pass by the sergeants, merely giving their equipment a casual glance, assuming, no doubt, that as they are more experienced soldiers than the privates, their equipment is in proper condition. As a result of this it sometimes happens that the sergeants allow their rifles to get in rather poor shape. That some officers are alive to this is shown by a young second lieutenant, who, after examining a particularly dirty rifle, handed it back to the luckless private, remarking disgustedly: "Your rifle is dirty enough to be a sergeant's."

Catching.

Even the children are beginning to talk motor jargon. "Look, mother," said a little fellow, pointing to a hole in his stocking. "I've had a blowout." A little girl being asked how she managed to catch a chicken, replied: "I just runned him till his gas gave out an' then I picked him up."

A third youngster who was usually slow in obeying his mother's call came quickly enough when she called him to dinner. On her pointing this fact out to him, he said: "Oh, I always change to high when I come to meals."—Boston Transcript.

A Friend In The Pipe Is A Friend That's Right

A friendly tale about a friendly smoke that gathers friends wherever friends gather

When you have found your tobacco you have found a friend. There are no more constant friendships than those between discriminating men and the tobacco that suits them. Choose your friends wisely, test your friends well; true friends, like rarest gems, prove hard to tell—excepting in the case of Honey Moon, the friendly smoke. You'll know its true friendship qualities as soon as you put a match to it.

It might also be said that Honey Moon, like Friendship, "cheers like a sunbeam; charms like a good story; inspires like a brave leader; binds like a golden chain; guides like a heavenly vision."

However, Honey Moon is unique; it's different. From the time its tiny green shoots peep up out of Mother earth and is christened Burley, until it's cured in the big wine casks at the Penn Company factory and then seasoned just as plum pudding is seasoned, it is getting its Honey Moon training. Mild, mellow and sweet to the taste and smell, it will not "bite" or dry out in the tin. Made in a Union shop by Union labor, expert and well-paid, by "bringing up" and "education," it is the smoke that sticks like a friend tried and true.

Besides, Honey Moon is reasonable in price—10c; larger size 15c. Don't hesitate to try Honey Moon. Forget the price. Just think of the quality. Get a package to-day from any tobacconist. They all carry it in your town. If Honey Moon proves unsatisfactory in any way, after you have smoked it, return it to the dealer and he will refund your money.

The Perfect Refrigerator—
The Automatic

It keeps your food sweet and wholesome

Food odors do not mix in an Automatic Refrigerator

Did you ever have your milk taste of onions? or your butter taste of fish? or other food odors mix? That was because there were conflicting air currents in your refrigerator. It was not scientifically built.

Take a good look at this picture. Note that there is constant, automatic dry-air circulation. Cold air descends (follow it from around and under the ice). It goes 'round and 'round, being purified each time it strikes the ice. That's why food odors won't mix in an Automatic: that's why your foods are properly preserved and always fresh, pure, wholesome and free from taint or moisture.

This automatic circulation and the honestly-built eight-section walls that keep the cold in and the heat out, are only two of the reasons why the Automatic is the refrigerator we know you will want if you investigate.

Always glad to show you and to give you a booklet telling many things you ought to know before buying a refrigerator. Automatics cost no more than the ice-eating, food-spoiling kind, and you can open a charge account for one if you wish.

TEUTON PEACE DELEGATES SNAPPED FOR FOLK AT HOME

When the German delegates were dispatched to the peace conference a camera man was sent along to get the proper kind of pictures for home use. The photo above, one of the unique ones of the conference, shows the German photographer filming the German delegates on their way from the Hotel des Reservoirs, their headquarters, to the Trianon palace. The home folk won't see the picket fence erected to keep the delegates out of Paris or the guards around their hotel.
